DENIM SHORTS

LOOKBOOK BY
LEVIS, H&M, GAP, A&F AND AEO (USA) JULY 2024

A comprehensive denim lookbook showcasing the most sought-after women's shorts from America's leading brands is now available from Denimsandjeans. This expertly curated collection features the crème de la crème of shorts from Levi's Strauss, H&M, Gap, Abercrombie & Fitch, and American Eagle, as listed on their e-commerce platforms. Our in-depth analysis, conducted in July 2024, compares the brands' offerings based on three key factors: the number of shorts available and average price. This lookbook provides unparalleled insight into the US denim market, highlighting current trends and consumer preferences.

PERCENTAGE OF WOMEN SHORTS OFFERED ONLINE

Here, H&M and American Eagle led the way in offering the highest number of women's shorts in July 2024, surpassing Levi's Strauss, Abercrombie & Fitch, and Gap. Notably, Gap allocated only 3% of its total production to women's shorts, representing the smallest share among the five brands. This data provides valuable insights into the inventory strategies and product focus of each brand, highlighting opportunities for growth and market differentiation.

AVERAGE PRICE OF WOMEN SHORTS OFFERED ONLINE

The chart below illustrates the average online prices for women's shorts offered by each brand in July 2024. Levi's Strauss commanded the highest average price, at $68.2 per article, while H&M offered the most affordable option, with an average price of $29.3 per article. This pricing analysis reveals significant variations in the brands' strategies, with Levi's positioning itself as a premium offering and H&M targeting budget-conscious consumers. The average prices of Gap, Abercrombie & Fitch, and American Eagle fell within this range, reflecting their respective brand positions and target markets.
